Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Annual Report of International Activities: Fiscal Year 1982 On behalf of the National Institutes of Health (NIH), the John E. Fogarty International Center for Advanced Study in the Health Sciences (FIC) is pleased to present this 14th Annual Report of International Activities, covering the fiscal year 1982. Edited by the FIC, but based upon reports by each of the Bureaus, Institutes, and Divisions (BID s) of the NIH, this report provides an overview of international activities for the period. These activities are essential to the furtherance of the NIH mission and fall within the purview of one or more of the BID s. The international programs of the NIH are specifically authorized under the International Health Research Act of 1960 (P.L. 86-610) to advance the status of the health sciences in the United States and thereby the health of the American People through cooperative endeavors with other countries in health research, research planning, and research training. The benefits of NIH international programs, however, extend far beyond our borders. Cooperative relationships that the BID s have established through their intramural and extramural programs enable foreign biomedical and behavioral research scientists to collaborate with their U.S. counterparts to discover better means for treatment, control, and - ultimately - prevention of disease worldwide. In 1968, the Fogarty International Center was established as the focal point for the international work of the NIH. Although the number and kinds of international programs differ from Institute to Institute, the FIC is the only NIH component with an explicit international mission, which includes NIH-wide coordination of activities relevant to this mission in addition to the conduct of specific international programs of its...
