Y.; driving him without rein, and turning him loose in the streets as a trick horse, controlling him entirely by whip and word of command. He has been on exhibition ever since that time, and taking into consideration his willful and stubborn disposition, I consider him one of the best and most tractable horses on exhibition. On the 3d day of April, 1865, we commenced training a wild and nervous Black Hawk horse for Messrs. Williams Wilder, who were at that time receiving instructions from us, preparatory to giving instructions themselves. In about six days we delivered them the horse, and on the following week they gave a successful exhibition at Whitingham, Vt. They continued to give successful performances for some months, when, through entire carelessness on...
